Ezeiting News From Fort Craig.

"A telegram from Denver of the 7th inst. informs us that a desperate battle has been fought at Fort Craig, with what result has not been learned. But we fear, from the accounts, that the Union forces were beaten. Fort Craig is on the Rio Grande, in New Mexico, about 400 miles nearly south from Denver, and about 150 miles south of the states tolerating slavery would very

The special message of President Lincoln will be the subject of much comment, chiefly because there was some doubt how he stood on the emancipation question, and also because the message itself is far from rendering his position clear.

There is no doubt that he would avoid, if possible, immediate emancipation. He is in favor of giving aid to" any state" for the gradual abolition of slavery. Herein many people will differ with him. Some believe that immediate and unconditional both white and black than a slow and lingering process—if there is a cancer to be removed, tear it out at once, and get rid of no emancipation, those who believe thus would acquiesce in the latter.

That this aid should be proffered to a rebel'state, as the message seems to imply, and that money should be paid to disloyal men for their slaves, we think would be wrong. We should not like to be taxed for such an object. Previous to the rebellion's proposition to aid the slave states in all the ruin which may follow. Such as this work, would have received the sanction may seem indispensible, or may obviously of nine tenths of the people.

Now the circumstances which surround mense debt upon us, and this alone should induce us to heaitate in giving aid even to induce us to heaitate in giving aid even to seven persons concerned than destroyed a culvert or two beyond Moscow in the contracts for the next two years, from Fort was posted to ask whether the pecuniary consideration. They left in too great haste to do any daminer than the contracts for the transportation of army the contracts for the c us are different. We have, already, an imloyal slave holders in getting rid of the evil are the institution and property in it, in of slavery. We are compelled to inquire, the present aspect of affairs? While it is before we give the promise, whether we can fulfill the obligation proposed to be incur-slave states, including the District of Columbia. To give pecuniary aid to the amount of $100 for each of these slaves would require $125,000,000. Three hundred dollars for each slave in those states. would add to our national dobt $375,800, 000. Could we pay that much? We think the nation could well afford to do it, if that would stop the war, and destroy the institution of slavery in the whole country.

But would the war be ended if congress should adopt the resolution proposed by Mr. Lincoln, with the amendment that the pecuniary aid should be given only to loyal slave holders, even if all the border states should accept the proposition? Very doubtful; although Mr. Lincoln thinks it would substantially end the rebellion.

We think a proposition like this would be more satisfactory to the loyal people of the country: Declare the slaves of every rebel free—(that would deduct largely from the number to be paid for) -confiscate the property of all rebels, and give it to the loyal alayeholders to remunerate them for the emancipation of their slaves, and for losses during the war. The free states would willingly forego their share of the confiscated property of rebels, if this arrangement could be made.

message is obscure, but we may fairly infer from it. Isl, that the President apprehends. if the northern slave states are not recured beyond doubt, that the insurrectionary states will continue the war until they gain their independence; 2d, that slavery is the cause of the rebellion; 3d, a practical acknowledgement of the national authority attempted to do so, though many of them rebels pressing upon him; while arms, muwould render the war unnecessary, without further terms: 4th, if the rebellion contin-lt is presumed that the three -main batter. teers lay for weeks in camp idle and useless ues it will be indispensable to use remedies les mounted fifty guns, and we have the evi. for want of arms and equipments, while of greater efficiency towards ending the dence of citizens who frequently visited the positions were abandoned and reverses susstraggie. What can this mean but to strike camp, to this effect. An attacking party tained for the lack of their services. The an efficient blow at the cause of the rebellion slavery ? We whope Mr. Lincoln intends this, and, that he must and will" apply the remedy soon. "The Union must be preserved, and hence ALL indispensable means must be employed," says Mr. Lincoln, and so say all the loyal people.

COMPENSATED EMANCIPATION. Special Mossage of the President WASHINGTON, March 6.

The President to day transmitted to congress the following message I recommend the adoption of a joint resolution by your honorable bodies which shall be substantially as follows: Resolved. That the United States ought to co-operate with any state which may giving to such state pecuniary aid to be us ed by such state in its discretion to compensate for the inconveniences, public and private; produced by such change of ava-

If the proposition contained in the resolution does not meet the approval of congress and the country, there is the end; but if it does command such approval, I deem it of importance that the states and people immediately interested should be atonce distinctly notified of the fact, so that they may begin to consider whether to accept or reject it. The federal government would find its highest interest in such a measure as one of the most efficient measures of self-preservation. The leaders of the existing insurrection entertain the hope. that the government will ultimately be forced to acknowledge the independence of some part of the disaffected region, and that all the slave states north of such points will then say the Union for which we have struggled being already gone, we now choose to go with them. To deprive them of this hope, substantially ends the rebellion, and the initiation of emancipation completely deprives them of it as to all the states initiating. The point is not that all soon, if at all, initiate emancipation, but that while the offer is equally made to all, The Special Message of the President. the more northern shall by such initiation. make it certain to the more southern that in no event shall the former join the latter in their proposed confederacy. I say "initiation," because in my judge ment gradual, and not sudden, emancipation is better for all. In the mere financial or pecuniary view, any member of congress. with the census tables and the treasury reports before him, can readily see for himself how very soon the current expenditures of the war would purchase, at a fair, voluation, all the slaves in any named state. Such a proposition on the part of the general government sets up no claim or right by federal authority to interfere with slavery within state limits, referring, as it emancipation would result in fewer evils to | does, the absolute control of the subject in each case to the state and its people immediately interested. It is proposed as a matter of perfectly free choice with them. In the aunual message last December, I tho't it. But rather than that there should be fit to say the Union must be preserved, and hence all indispensible means must be employed. I said this not bastily, but deliberately. War has been, and continues to to be had for miles around—the southernbe, an indispensible means to this end. A practical re-acknowledgement of the national authority would render the war unnecessary, and it would at once cease. If. however, resistance continues, the war must also continue; and it is impossible to foresee all the incidents which may attend, and promise greater efficiency towards ending the struggle, must and will come.

The proposition now made is an offer only, I hope it may be esteemed no offense true that the adoption of the proposed resolution would be merely initiatory, and not | marked "Bill Seward the d-d Abolitionwithin itself a practical measure, it is re list." CARTAL AND SURLIUS, 1HE above are First Class, justly popular, and prompt paying companies. They invite investigation into their condition and salleit business entirely upon their real merits. In point of selvency and reliability and honorable dealing, they have but few equals, and no superiors. They are founded upon the very best securities in the world—first class boulds and mortanges upon property in New York and Hooklyn—scentrities that have not, for the past ten years, depresinted below par, and are every way more reliable and permanent than railroad, bank, and other stocks, which are satisfied to the fluctuations of the market, and liable, in times of partie, as the expurience of the past teaches, to become aimest, if not entirely, valueless. And while there are Companies entering the field of competition, well calentated to mislead by publishing railrist and one-sided statements of their condition, and without a cash surplus on hand sufficient to reinsure their outstanding risks, the above named companies always have and keep over and above their capital time the twice the amount, and in most instances four times, needed for the reinsurance of all their risks. With such a foundation, and with anch a condition, they claim the right to look with confidence to the public for liberal patronage.

Policies issued without delay, and farms risks for a series of years taken at these rates than can be done by it such a Companies instead of an tual Companies, and a certainty given instead of a neertainty. All lesses promptly adjusted and paid.

New York Life Insurance Company, Oash Capital Oyes $1,900,000 all well invested for the benefit of Policy holders, so that the profits of this vast sum pay a large proportion of their annual premitines. This is unquestionably the of their annual premiums. This is unquestionably the rery best Life Company doing business in this state.

as the nature of the riskn and security of policy-hollers will admit.

The above is the oldest company doing business in this state, and with postliar propriety has been denominated "The Old Harthord." As an indemnity to the insured, it refers to a solid million of segets well invested; and if anything were needed to cummond it to the public for liberal patronage, we might offer its history of success to business and honorable deading with its patrons, for over half a century, so amply sufficient for the purpose.

The state department is preparing an elaborate and comprehensive paper on Mexican affairs. It is believed it will urga resistance to the movements of European powers. Senator Collamer, from the committee on post offices and post roads, has reported adversaly to the house bill establishing a postal money order system, and authoriz-ing the carriage of additional mail matter. Alexander Commings is out with a defense, in a letter to Congressman William D. Kelly. He denies that he had anything to do with chartering the Cataline; avers that her freight, including all linen trow-sers and straw hats, were bona fide for soldier's benefit; claims that the hundred and forty thousand dollars spoken of in Washburne's report were retained under orders tions by the war department; and pleads illness as an excuse for delay in making this reply.

O. B. Matteson is said to be a silent part ner in the Pennsylvania Avenue scheme, driven through the house, but encountering a serious obstacle in the senate in the person of Mr. Grimes, chairman of the District committee, whom the speculators call "impracticable." FLOYD.-The most artistic and finely colored portrait we have yet seen of Floyd is drawn by the editor of the Philadelphia North American. We reproduce the outlines: "There are many tribes of villains, with varying types of villainy, from murderous poisoners and pirates to midnight footpads and mousing sneak-thieves. Each tribe has its grade of criminals, each type its shades of crime, from wickedness made almost respectable by courage, to depravity crowned by basest cowardice and by treachery to traitors. Of the lowest tribe and lowest in that tribe, is one Floyd-s fellow mixed of all the elements of meanness, and whose christian name we withhold, since it is a shame to Christendom, that such a thing was ever born within its borders or baptised with its holy symbols. His career—if we may so call his secret, sinuous and slimy track-has placed him before all rivals in the ranks of living scoundrelism, and fully up with the vilest of buried villains."

A HUNDRED EGGS FROM A PYTHON,—In the Zoological Gardens, at London, they have had a large serpent of the Python species, from the west coast of Africa, for nany years. This reptile is nineteen feet long and twenty inches in circumference. About three years ago another snake of the same kind was introduced to its den, and they have lived together ever since. On the morning of the 12th of January, the men in charge of that department were much surprised to find that the larger ser-pent had laid about a hundred eggs as large as those of a goose. The skin of the eggs was tough and leathery, heir color, dirty yellow. When first seen the eggs were in heap, but the serpent Isid them all on a level, and then coiled her body over them. During the week after she laid them, the servent came off them twice for short periods. She is covered with a blanket while thus upon her eggs, and has not fed for the last twenty-one weeks. This interesting fact establishes the fact that this species of serpent hatches her young by incubation and it is believed that she will bring forth some snakes from the great nest of eggs

Sthe best Machine in the word for Family Sewing ami Light Manufacturing purposes; Price, (with lemmer,) and beautifully ornamented, FIFTY DOLLARS.

The Nos. 1 and 2 machines are of great capacity and application for manufacturing purposes.

Our No. 3 mechines are especially sciented to alikinds of light and heavy

LEATHER WORK, in Carriage Trimming, Boot and Shoe Making, Harness Making, etc., etc. They are of extra size, with an arm long enough to take under it and stitch the largest sized dashes. There is searcely any part of a Trimmer's stitching that cannot be better done with them that by hand: so, too, the saving of time and labor is very great. The table under these machines is 24 inchess long, and the shuttle will hold six times the usual quantity of thread. The large machines work as fast as small ones.

We would sek for our Letter A machines, the special attention of Vast Makers and Dress Makers, and all those who want mechines for Light Manufacturing purposes. They embody the principles of the standard machines, making like them, the interlock stitch, and are destined to be as celebrated for Family Sewing and light manufacturing purposes as our standard machines are for manufacturing purposes in general.
We have always on hand

Hemming Guages, Silk Twist, Liner and Cotton Thread on Spools, Best Machine Oil in Bottles, etc., etc.

We manufacture our own Needles, and would warn all persons using our machines not to buy any others. We know that there are needles sold of the most inferi-or quality, at higher prices than we charge for the best. The needles sold by us are manufactured senecially for our machines. A bad needle may render the best ma Chine almost useless.

We have made the above Roduction in Prices with the two-fold view of benefitting the public and ourselves. The public have been swindled by spurious machines made in imitation of ours. The metal in them, from the iron casting to the smallest piece, is of poor quality. Their makers have not the means to do their work well. They are hid away in secret places, where it would be impossible to have at their command the proper mechanical appliances. It is only by doing a great business, and having extensive manufacturing establishments, that good machines can be made at moderate prices. The best designed machines, Badly Made, are always liable to get out of order, and are sure to cost considerable trouble and money to keep them in repair. The qualities to be looked for in a machine are: certainly of correct action at all rates of speed, simplicity of controtion, great durability and rapidity of operation, with the least labor. Machines to combine these essential qualities, must be made of the best metal and finished to perfection. We have the ways and means, on a grand scale, to do this.

The purchasers of machines, whose daily broad it may concern, will find that those having the above qualities not only work well at rapid as well as slow rates of speed, but last long in the finest possible working order. Our machines, at made by us, will early more money with less labor than any others, whother in imitation of ours or not. In fact, they are cheaper than any other machines as a gift.

POURTHER WITH IMPORTANT DOCUMENTS AND EXTRICT FROM REMARKABLE SPEECHES. In Weekly Parts, 32 pages, large 8ve, Price 10 Cents. THE want of an authentic and thorough History of the Rebelium, for present reference and future pres-orvation, is the subject of general remark. No work of that nature has yet been offered to the public, and all who wish for information are compelled to grope through the mazes of the rumors, reports, dispatches, letters and the mazes of the runners, reports, suspectives, letters and editorials of the daily newspapers, to precipitate, from its confused columns, the great facts and incidents of the struggle for the Union.

To meet this want, and to produce a work of permanent value or well as of present interest, the publisher has arranged for the issue of the history as above set forth—in a form and at a price which shall render it acceptable to all.

This introve will tell the Story as it is, giving a clear.

This history will tell the Stoar as iris, giving a clear, tradictory childres of the moment, and not a correct, connected and complete history. The above publication, afterwards bound in a handsome volume, will be a book for the family, which will be valued like the records of the War of Independence, or the Life of Washington, and worthy to be kept for children and grand children, is a memorial of the present time It will thus prove desirable, available and satisfactory to every citizen, every family, every office, every libra-ry: and is given to the public in the full assurance that it will command the approbation of every patriot, every

- Ohio State Journal:

Special Message of the President to Congress.

WASHINGTON, March 6. The President to-day transmitted to congress the following message:

I recommend the adoption of a joint resolution by your honorable bodies which shall be substantially as follows:

Resolved, That the United States ought adopt a gradual abolishment of slavery, giving to such state pecuniary aid to be us-ed by such state in its discretion to compensate for the inconveniences, public and private, produced by such change of sysem.

If the proposition contained in the resolution does not meet the approval of congress and the country, there is the end; but if it does command such approval, I deem it of importance that the states and people immediately interested should be at once distinctly notified of the fact, so that they may begin to consider whether to accept or reject it. The federal government would find its highest interest in such a measure as one of the most efficient meas ares of self-preservation. The leaders of the existing insurrection entertain the hope that the government will ultimately forced to acknowledge the independence of some part of the disaffected region, and that all the slave states north of such points will then say the Union for which we have struggled being already gone, we now choose to go with them. To deprive them of this hope, substantially ends the rebellion, and the initiation of emuncipation completely deprives them of it as to all the states initiating. The point is not that all the states tolerating slavery would very soon, if at all, initiate emancination, but that while the offer is equally made to all, the more northern shall by such initiation, make it certain to the more southern that in no event shall the former join the latter in their proposed confederacy.

I say "initiation," because in my judgment gradual, and not sudden, emancipa-tion is better for all. In the mere financial or pecuniary view, any member of congress, with the census tables and the treasury reports before him, can readily see for him self how very soon the current expenditures of the war would purchase, at a fair voluation, all the slaves in any named state. Such a proposition on the part of the general government sets up no claim or right by federal authority to interfere with slavery within state limits, referring, as it does, the absolute control of the subject in each case to the state and its people immediately interested. It is proposed as a matter of perfectly free choice with them. In the aunual message last December, I tho't fit to say the Union must be preserved, and hence all indispensible means must be employed. I said this not hastily, but deliberately. War has been, and continues to be, an indispensible means to this end. A practical re-acknowledgement of the national authority would render the war unnecessary, and it would at once cease. If, however, resistance continues, the war must also continue; and it is impossible to foresee all the incidents which may attend, and all the ruin which may follow. Such as may seem indispensible, or may obviously promise greater efficiency towards ending he struggle, must and will come.

The proposition now made is an offer only, I hope it may be esteemed no offense to ask whether the pecuniary consideration tendered would not be of more value to the states and private persons concerned than are the institution and property in it, in the present aspect of affairs? While it is true that the adoption of the proposed res olution would be merely initiatory, and not within itself a practical measure, it is re-commended in the hope that it would sooner lead to important results. In full view of my great responsibility to my God and to my country, I earnestly beg the attention of congress and the people to the subject. Signed

ABRAHAM LINCOLN.

The bluff faces north and and projects slightly into the Mississippi beyond a ridge extending a mile above it. There are, or rather there were, three rows of batteries upon it the first about fifteen feet above the river, the second about - feet above this, and the third on the top of the hill. It is difficult to say how many guns either of these mounted as the rebels threw most of their heavy pieces into the river or attempted to do so, though many of them failed to reach their destination, and stopped on the back, where they are now visible It is presumed that the three main hatter ies mounted fifty guns, and we have the evi dence of citizens who frequently visited the camp, to this effect. An attacking party would have had one great advantage .-There was no shelter erected for the artillerymen; and those who worked the guns in the lower batteries would be exposed during the entire action to the fire of the gunboats. The water buttery was on a sort of table about fifty feet long and twenty feet deep. The fort can be reached from the town of Columbus by four different roads, cut thro'

Major Genéral HALLECK. FLOYD.—The most artistic and finely colored nortrait we have vet seen of Floyd is drawn by the editor of the Philadelphia North American. We reproduce the outlines: "There bromany tribes of villains. with varying types of villainy, from murderous poisoners and pirates to midnight ootpads and mousing anonk-thieves. Each ribe has its grade of criminals, each type its shades of crime, from wickedness made linest respectable by courage, to deprayity crowned by basest cowardice and by trenchery to traitors. Of the lowest tribe and lowest in that tribe is one Floyd a llow: mixed of all the elements of means uss, and whose christian iname we withold; since it is a shame to Christendom; that such a thing was ever born within its borders or baptised with its holy symbols: His career—if we may so call his secret. sinuous and slimy track-has placed him before: all: rivals: in: the ranks of /living scoundrelism, and fully up with the vilest of buried villains." y woods the A HUNDRED EGGS FROM A PYTHON, -In the Zoological Gardens, at London, they have had a large serpent of the Python species, from the west coast of Africa, for many years. This reptile is nineteen feet long and twenty inches; in circumference. About three years ago another snake of the samo kind was introduced to its den, and they have lived, together, ever since. On the morning of the, 12th of, January, the men in charge of that department were much surprised to find that the larger serpent had laid about a hundred eggs as large as those of a goose. The skin of the eggs was tough, and leathery, their color, dirty yellow. When first seen the eggs were in a heap, but the serpent, laid them all on a level, and then coiled her body over them. During the week after she laid them; the serpent came off them twice for short peri ods. She is covered with a blanket while thus upon her eggs, and has not fed for the last twenty one weeks. Our Public Schools.

It is designed that these schools, which will be re-opened on Monday next, shall be in all respects adequate to the educational wants of our city. We earnestly bespeak for them the deserved encouragement and cordial support of all classes of our citizens.

It is proposed that the instruction to be imparted, from the primary school upward, through the different gradations, shall be given in the most thorough manner; the object being, not to rest in a mere superficial training of the faculties, giving a glossy outside appearence of knowledge, but to go to the root of the matter, developing carefully the reason of things and the philosophy of the different branches required to be taught.

We learn it will be the constant aim of the city only such teachers as may prove object. The principal of our high school, Mr. S.

T. Lockwood, during his brief and satisfactory administration of affairs, has given us an earnest of the future. A man of generous culture, understanding the legitimate duties of his position, and gentlemanly in his bearing outside the school room as in it, he has the confidence of the board of education, and is hereby commended to the people of the city as a thorough teacher, under whose judicious management we have reason to hope for the continued prosperity of our high school.

Parents, and all friends of education in our midst, should manifest a lively interest in our public schools. This may be shown in various ways, - by their expressed sympathy, their words of advice and encourage ment, their willing and generous support, and especially by their occasional visits to the different departments of justruction. An interest thus exemplified, in connection with the appropriate action of our city council and the school board, will ensure for the benefit of our children an educational system of the highest importance.

ENGRAVING .- We call the attention of our readers to the advertisement of W. D. Eaker, of Chicago, who is one of the very best engravers in the west. Persons in want of anything in his line will find him a first rate workman, and a fair and honorable business man to deal with.

PANORAMA.-The exhibition of the panorama at Lappin's Hall continues to give unqualified satisfaction. All who visit it unite in declaring it the best they have ever witnessed. The exhibition opens to night at 71 o'clock, and those who have not seen it will regret the omission if it leaves the city without their visiting it.

Washington Engine Co. No. 3 .- There will be a meeting of this company this evening, at their house, at half past seven o'clock. Let every member be on hand. By order of the foreman,

J. T. WILCON, Secretary.

OUR STATE TROOPS .- The Madison Jour nal says that the 16th segiment will probably leave in a day or two, and that the 1st and 2d regiments of cavalry are expected to leave the state some time next week.

The 14th regiment passed through this city to-day, from Fond du Lac, bound south, Correspondence of the Daily Gazette, From the Thirteenth Regiment.

Headquarters 13th Regiment, Camp Destzler, Fort Scott, Feb. 27, '62. } We arrived at this point all safe and sound, just one week ago to day, but I have been so very busy that it has been impossible for me to write until to-day. We have passed through one of the most disagreeable marches that has occurred in this section of country. Our marching distance will not vary four miles from 160 miles. I marched (although I had the choice of three horses to ride,) the entire distance, and even further than the regiment, as at one point I was detached from the regiment with the baggage, which, in order to cross a stream, bad to go round a distance of 15 miles, which will make my marching dis tance 175 miles. I think when we arrived here I was the freshest person in the com mand. Marching does not seem to wear on me at all. I do not weigh two pounds less than I did when I left Janesville. It is not every regiment in the service that can stand marching like the 13th. We were 14 days between Leavenworth and Fort Scott, but we had to lay over five days on account of high water, making our marching time nine days, which is considered tip-top time. Two days we were in mud and water from ten to forty inches deep. The calonel and four we arrived here the place was held by the Kansas 6th, a small regiment of about 500 men. Some of the Kansas regiments are poor concerns, got up without any regard to discipline, numbers, dress, or outfit. The 6th especially is a poor crew. They were ordered from this place to march south, and have gone into camp below here. General Deitzler has command of this brigade, or the one that we are. We may remain here some time, or may be ordered away within two days. There are bodies of secesh within about 20 miles of here at the present time. D.

The Mutual Life Insurance Company

STATE OF WISCONSIN, Presents advantages in all respects equal, and in some superior, to those of other companies doing business in the northwest. Its rates, its plan of operations, and its basis, are identical with the best companies in this country and Europe. Its age, and consequently its accumulations, are not equal to theirs in amount, but in propor-METHODIST EPISCOPAL CHURCH. J. H. JENNE | tion to the age of risks, and amount at risk, Pustor. Sabbath services, 103/2 A. M., and 7 P. M. | they will compare favorably with the most successful,

Its assets, which have resulted solely from the accumulations of three years, amount to $86,881.20, and its annual income, from policies now in force, over £55.000.

Its assets and business are constantly increasing. Its losses have been promptly paid. Its trustees are well known, honorable business men, and are as capable of managing an institution of this kind, as men in any other portion of the United. States. The experience of the company thus far proves that we can have as reliable com panies in the west as any where else, if we will, and self-interest certainly indicates that we should have them, and build up home interests in every practicable way. In the above respects, this company claims equality with its co-workers, and in the following superiority: It obtains the greater portion of its business in the healthiest portion of the United States, thus having the advanthe school board to keep in the employ of tage of a less per centage of loss; it receives higher rates of interest on its investments, themselves best adapted to promote this thus making more rapid accumulationsboth very important items in Life Insurance; and its expenses have been less in proportion to its business than any other new company doing business in the United States.

Our Public Schools.

It is designed that these schools, which will be re opened on Monday next, shall be in all respects adequate to the educational wants of our city. We earnestly bespeak for them the deserved encouragement and cordial support of all classes of our citizens.

It is proposed that the justruction to be imparted, from the primary school upward, through the different gradations, shall be given in the most thorough manner; the object being, not to rest in a mere super ficial training of the faculties, giving a glossy outside appearence of knowledge, but to go to the root of the matter, developing carefully the reason of things and the philosophy of the different branches required to be taught.

We learn it will be the constant aim of the school board to keep in the employ of the city only such teachers as may prove The principal of our high school, Mr. S.

T. Lockwood, during his brief and satisfactory administration of affairs, has given us an earnest of the future. A man of generous culture, understanding the legitimate duties of his position, and gentlemanly in his bearing outside the school room as in it, he has the confidence of the board of education, and is bereby commended to the papple of the city as a thorough teacher, under whose judicious management we have reason to hope for the continued prosperity of our high school.

Parents, and all friends of education in our midst, should manifest a lively interest in our public schools. This may be shown in various ways, -by their expressed sympathy, their words of advice and encourage ment, their willing and generous support, and especially by their occasional visits to the different departments of instruction. An interest thus exemplified, in connection with the appropria e action of our city council and the school board, will ensure for the benefit of our children an educational system of the highest importance.

ENGRAVING .-- We call the attention of our readers to the advertisement of W. D. Baker, of Chicago, who is one of the very bost engravers in the west. Persons in want of anything in his line will find him a first rate workman, and a fair and honorable business man to deal with.

PANORAMA .- The exhibition of the panorama at Lappin's Hall continues to give unqualified satisfaction. All who visit it unite in declaring it the best they have ever witnessed. The exhibition opens to night at 71 o'clock, and those who have not seen it will regret the omission if it leaves the city without their visiting it.

Washington Engine Co. No. 3.—There will be a meeting of this company this avening, at their house, at half past seven o'clock. Let every member be on hand, By order of the foreman,

J. T. WILCON, Secretary.

OUR STATE TROOPS .- The Madison Jour nal says that the 16th regiment will probably leave in a day or two, and that the 1st and 2d regiments of cavalry are expected to leave the state some time next week. The 14th regiment passed through this city to-day, from Fond du Lac, bound south,

Headquarters 13th Regiment, Camp Beitzerr, Fort Scott, Feb. 27, '62 We arrived at this point all safe and sound, just one week ago to day, but I have been so very husy that it has been impossible for me to write until to-day. We have passed through one of the most disagreenble marches that has occurred in this section of country. Our marching distance will not vary four miles from 100 miles. I marched (although I had the choice of three horses to ride,) the entite distance, and even farther than the regiment, as at one point I was detached from the regiment with the baggage, which, in order to cross a stream, had to go round a distance of 15 miles, which will make my marching distance 175 miles. I think when we arrived TALLMAN & COLLINS. here I was the freshest person in the command. Marching does not seem to wear ou me at all. The Mutual Life Insurance Company OF THE

STATE OF WISCONSIN,

Presents advantages in all respects equal, and in some superior, to those of other companies doing business in the northwest. Its rates, its plan of operations, and its basis, are identical with the best companies in this coultry and Europe. Its age, and consequently its accumulations, are not equal to theirs in amount, but in proportion to the age of risks, and amount at risk, they will compare favorably with the most

Its assets, which have resulted solely from the accumulations of three years, amount to $86,881.20, and its annual income, from policies now in force, over $55,000.

Its assets and business are constantly increasing. Its losses have been promptly paid. Its trustees are well known, honorable business men, and are as capable of managing an institution of this kind, as men in any other portion of the United States. The experience of the company thus far proves that we can have as reliable companies in the west as any where else, if we will, and self interest certainly indicates that we should have them, and build up home interests in every practicable way. In the above respects, this company claims equality with its co-workers, and in the following superiority: It obtains the greater portion of its business in the healthiest portion of the United States, thus having the advantage of a less per centage of loss; it receives higher rates of interest on its investments, themselves best adapted to promote this thus making more rapid accumulationsboth very important items in Life Insurance; and its expenses have been less in proportion to its business than any other new company doing husiness in the United States.

> S. S. DAGGETT, President, A. W. Kellong, Secretary. H. G. Wilson, General Agent.

The company has a large number of lives usured in Janesville. Applications for insurance received by the agent, Willard Merrill, at his law office in Lappin's block.

The want of an authentic and thorough. History of the Rebeltion, for present reference and future preservation, is the subject of general remark. No work of that nature has yet been offered to the public, and all who wish for information are compelled to grope through the makes of the rumors, reports, dispatches, letters and editorials of the daily newspapers, to precipitale, from its confused columns, the great facts and incidents of the struggle for the Union.

To meet this want, and to produce a work of permanent value as well as of present interest, the publisher has arranged for the issue of the history as above set forth—in a form and at a price which shall render it acceptable to all.

nas arranges to the east of the tales, a more set forth—in a form and at a price which shall render it acceptable to all.

This history will tell the Stort as it is, giving a clear, consecutive narrative of the entire movement, including all the incidents and events in their exace order, and containing the important deciments and extracts from remarkable speeches. It will not be a merodiary, nor a mere enumeration of dry and naked dates, nor a compilation of ellips from newspapers, but will portray in connected and interestinguarrative, the revolutionary steps, as well as the measures of the government.

It will carefully digest all oydience—will slik all rumors and reports—will fix upon facts, and correct so far as possible the error and discrepancies incident to the heaty narratives of the newspapers.

It will be written in a style suited to its theme—at once graphic, carnest and luminous, introducing such personal and social incidents as may serve to show the relations of individuals and communities to the grand events of the time.

relations of individuals and communities to the grand events of the time. It is true, everyhody results the newspapers, but the reports of the newspapers are the fragmentary and contradictory children of the moment, and not a correct, connected and complete history. The above publication, afterwards bound in a handsone volume, will be a book for the family, which will be valued like the records of the War of Independence, or the Life of Washington, and worthy to be kept for children and grand-children, as a memorial of the present time. It will thus prove desirable, available and satisfactory to every clitzen, every family, every office, every library: and is given to the public in the full assurance that it will command the approbation of every patrict, every Union man, every good citizen in our still Glorious Land.
